IN ASSOCIATION WITH

Lauren Taylor Wolfe

Managing Director, Investing Partner
and Member of the Investment Committee
Blue Harbour Group
Greenwich, CT

Lauren Taylor Wolfe is one of very few women in activist investing. She is a Managing Director, Investing Partner and member of the Investment Committee at Blue Harbour Group, a $3.8 billion activist investment firm that engages privately and collaboratively with management teams and boards to enhance shareholder value in North American companies. Focused primarily on investments in three sectors – information technology, consumer/retail and business services – Taylor Wolfe has led nine of the firm’s investments, which have generated substantial excess returns. On top of her portfolio investment responsibilities, she leads the firm’s engagement with its largest investor, Californian pension fund giant CalSTRS, and was instrumental in securing the fund’s capital commitments. Prior to joining Blue Harbour Group in December 2007, she was a Portfolio Manager and Analyst at SIAR Capital and worked at Diamond Technology Partners, a strategic technology consulting firm. Taylor Wolfe received an M.B.A. from The Wharton School at University of Pennsylvania in 2006 and a B.S. from Cornell University.
